Top Tips on the Ibiza Experience

Whatever your reasons for an interest in Ibiza this article should provide tips for your Ibizan experience.

Ibiza is usually overrun with tourists in the summer which isn't a problem at all for many who go there. For those Europeans who visit the capital of clubbing island prefer to stay on the surrounding islands and boat in for the partying. If you don't have friends who live on surrounding islands or a boat this might not be the best plan for you. So here are some tips on where to stay on the island.

Where to stay?

If on a budget it may be very tempting to stay in the cheapest areas, however if the reasons for you visiting the island is to see Superstar DJs, experience the best clubs in the world, frolic on great beaches and not feel like you are visiting summer time Britain then basically don't do it! The best clubs on the island are dotted from the middle to the west of the island. Eivissa is the main town centre and it's a bit pricey but a good alternative of this is Playa Den Bossa and it is recommended that you go there with a group and rent a car and villa.

Transport

To see the island properly, it is better to do it with a group and with a car. All of the good beaches are remotely situated around the island and need driving to or ferrying to. My top tip on travelling however is the bus system. Yes, that's right public transport does exist on the island and is relatively easy to use. Tickets can be bought from bus drivers and will save you a lot of money on a holiday that will prove to be very expensive. If you are taking the taxi route home, make sure you barter or find someone heading in the same direction as you to cut down the cab fare.

Clubs

Bear in mind these premium clubs come with expensive price tags, but if you are going to go, do it properly. Top 5 on the island that attract the best DJs and crowds are:

1. Pacha guaranteed a great night here. An international crowd, somehow this club seems slightly less sweaty than the rest and exerts an air of class that the others don't quite find. However pretentious fears overlooked this club has a constant flow of great names lined up and always provides themed nights featuring strange musical talents from all over the world as well as costumed performers rather than just dancers.
2. Amnesia one of the clubs situated in the middle of the island between Eivissa and San Antonio it gets top marks for the venue. Being many clubbers number one club on this island it is not to be missed. However go on a good night, foam parties tend to be overrun with cheesy creepy Spanish or Italians looking for wet girls to grind. Look out for the nights Cream or Cocoon.
1. Privilege situated near Amnesia in the middle of the two towns, it is the biggest club on the island and has Tiesto as a resident DJ on Mondays again this year.
2. Space - This club boasts many rooms and sports great acts, namely a space man of some sort on stilts with fire power coming out of his guns, (worth investigation). This club like the others has a great sound system and possibly the best lasers and light shows in Ibiza.
3. Bora Bora- ok so this isn't a club BUT this is not to be missed. If your idea of Ibiza is dancing on the beach watching the sun set as you have come straight off the beach then definitely head down to Bora Bora. Down the road from Space, Bora Bora is the perfect place to start the evening or end the day after sunning.
